

THE RIGHT IDEA.

The Silver State says:

If the Silver press of Nevada continues to do its missionary and educational work, no doubt by the next election two years hence, it can convince the rump of both parties that free coinage of silver at the present ratio is essential to our prosperity, and the only way to get it is to vote for it and against the goldbug parties. The vote for Harrison and Cleveland, the stain on Nevada's manhood and intelligence, must be wiped out in 1894 in our State and Congressional election.

This is the idea exactly. The Silver men of Nevada should organize in such a way that the whole Silver army can be moved at a moment's notice.

Our Sandwich Island Minister.

The Examiner prints a three page article on the state of affairs at the Sandwich Islands. It shows that Minister Stevens is not only wholly unfit for the position he occupies as a representative of the United States Government, but is a positive disgrace to the place. Every month of his stay there has embittered the relations between the United States and a Government with which we desire friendly relations.

With the change of Administration the APPEAL suggests the name of Mr. Edward Colnon of the Stockton Mail as a man who if appointed to the mission, would honor it.

He has advocated Cleveland in season and out of season ever since his defeat, four years ago and also stood by his tariff reform theories more than any other editor on the coast.

There is no more able pen than Colnon's on any Pacific Coast newspaper, and if he should receive the appointment, it would be the place seeking the man, and a better man could not be found anywhere.

The first souvenir half-dollar coined in the Philadelphia Mint for the World's Fair was made by the chief operator in that establishment, and was carefully wrapped in tissue and sealed in an envelope to be delivered to the person who has made a fabulous bid for the coin. Extra prices have also been offered for the four hundredth, the fourteen hundred and ninety-second and the eighteen hundred and ninety-second coins, and these are carefully sealed in the presence of the Superintendent of the Mint and endorsed by the officials who guarantee the contents of the envelopes to be what is represented. The minting of the coins will now go on as fast as possible, and by the first of the year many of them will be distributed over the country and through the various banks.

Senator Quay is out in a lengthy interview and among other interesting statements says:

You may say that I consider nothing more probable than that four years hence there will be an exact reversal of the popular verdict of 1892, and that, as in 1888, Mr. Harrison will succeed Mr. Cleveland in the Presidency.

This idea seems to possess the mind of Mr. Harrison and other leaders of the G. O. P. They do not seem to realize that free silver coinage may come in the meantime, or failing that the discontent of the people will sweep the People's party into power on a tidal wave. Reformers never go backward.

Senator Stewart of Nevada has a plan by which the usefulness of the Miners' Association could be greatly extended. He wants Nevada and the other mining States to form like associations, and then effect a consolidation with the California association, the new organization to be called the Miners' Association of the Pacific Coast. This would bring the hydraulic miners and the silver miners closer together, and each would work for the other, making mining a common cause. It would give us great power and is a plan worth considering.

Humboldt county boasts of nine precincts without a Harrison vote, seven in which Cleveland got none and four in which he only got one in each. Eight precincts went solid for Newlands. It will therefore be rather hard for Mr. Nixon to decide where to send that $100 banner. Better settle all disputes by sending it to Ormsby, where the Silver forces encountered the hardest fighting of the campaign.
